Look & feel

Monochrome, moody and cinematic. A hooded, hand-drawn narrator character guides every story — calm, observant, a little tired of the world.

Voice Second-person POV (“You...”), quiet and reflective — the story does the teaching, never a lecture. Thumbnails High contrast black & white, one red accent, a single bold idea or number.

Ten story blocks

Every upload is built on one of these ten repeatable story engines. Rotate them across the month so the channel stays consistent but never repetitive.

- 01 Every Level of Wealth Put the viewer in the same situation at different wealth levels and show how their experience changes.
How Hospitals Treat You at Every Level of Wealth: $0 to $50M
- 02 The Road to Wealth Follow someone from struggling → stable → comfortable → wealthy, including the sacrifices and turning points.
POV: You Built $1M While Everyone Thought You Were Broke
- 03 Wealth Changes You Explore how someone's behavior, standards, fears and priorities gradually change after becoming wealthy.
POV: You Got Rich — Then You Slowly Stopped Doing These Things
- 04 People Change Around You The protagonist stays relatively similar, but friends, family, coworkers or strangers behave differently once money enters the picture.
POV: Your Family Found Out You're a Millionaire
- 05 One Decision, Two Lives Take one financial choice and show the radically different lives it can create over 10–30 years.
You Bought the Dream Car. Your Friend Invested the Money. 20 Years Later...
- 06 The Invisible Cost Start with something people desperately want — salary, house, business, status — then reveal what was sacrificed to obtain it.
POV: You Finally Made $500K a Year. Nobody Told You the Price.
- 07 Quiet Wealth Explore the difference between looking wealthy and actually having financial freedom. Great for expectation reversals.
POV: Everyone at the Reunion Thought You Were the Least Successful
- 08 Money vs. Time Show how small financial decisions become enormous when you let 10, 20 or 40 years pass.
POV: You Kept Saying "It's Only $300" for 25 Years
- 09 Money Can't Fix It Give the protagonist enough money to solve almost anything, then confront them with something money can't restore or control.
You Finally Became Rich Enough to Stop Working. Your Kids Were Already Grown.
- 10 Rise, Fall & Rebuild Wealth isn't always an upward staircase. Explore what happens when someone gets rich, loses it, and has to discover who they are without it.
POV: You Went From $10M to $10,000 — And Learned Who Actually Knew You
